

Oracle Stellent: Advanced Site Studio Design Skills

Using Site Studio Designer 10gR4 and 11gR1

Overview

Duration: 3 days

This instructor-led training designed to provide required knowledge and skills used to professionally design, manage and publish web sites and setup contribution environment with Oracle Site Studio.

Objectives

- Develop understanding and comfort level with the entire spectrum of Oracle Site Studio Tools
- To understand the Site Studio roles of Contributor, Site Manager and Designer and Site Studio Publisher
- To be able to install Site Studio and its related tools.
- To understand Site Studio site structure elements, including:
 - Projects
 - Sections
 - Layout Pages (Primary and Secondary)
 - Fragments
 - Site Assets and Contribution Regions
 - Static List Elements
 - Dynamic List Elements and Replaceable Regions
- Design enterprise-level websites with Site Studio Site Structure Elements.

Prerequisites

- Comfortable with Oracle Stellent Content Server 10gR3 or 11gR1
- Basic knowledge of IdocScript
- Basic understanding of HTML, Javascript and CSS

Course Topics

- Overview of Site Studio
 - Overview of Contributor/Manager/Designer roles
 - The designer-contributor model
 - The role of contributor
 - The role of Site Manager
 - The role of designer
 - Content Contribution
 - Overview of Contributor and Site Manager tools

The Best Value
In Oracle UCM

GUARANTEED

- Installation
 - Installation of Site Studio component
 - Installation of Site Studio Designer application
- Creating Websites
 - Projects
 - Sections
 - Layout Pages (Primary and Secondary)
 - Fragments
 - Site Assets and Contribution Regions
 - Placeholders, Placeholder Definitions and Mappings
 - Region Definitions
 - Region Templates
 - Elements (Custom elements, static lists, dynamic lists)
 - Subtemplates
 - Native Documents and Dynamic Converter
- Publishing web sites with Site Studio Publisher
 - Review of Site Studio Publishing Models
 - Installation of Site Studio Publisher
 - Setting up site publishing and delivery

Each of these sections contains some instructor-taught material followed by supervised exercises.